Information in this report

This document is Part Two the 44th Statistical Report of the Canadian Association for Graduate Studies (CAGS). It contains university level data on graduate enrolments and graduate degrees granted in Canada.

All data in this part of the Report are based on tables provided to the Canadian Association for Graduate Studies by Universities Canada (formerly the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada) under an agreement signed by the two organizations. The Canadian Association for Graduate Studies would like to express its appreciation to Universities Canada and their staff for making these data available.

Universities Canada received the information as a special request from Statistics Canada, based on reports submitted by universities to Statistics Canada. No attempt has been made to verify the data sent by Universities Canada nor to compare the data from this report with earlier CAGS reports.

Note that Statistics Canada has revised and updated some information for recent years, so the numbers in this Report for those years do not exactly match those in the earlier Statistical Reports, although the differences are very minor.

If graduate programs were added or dropped, or changed in some way that affects either enrolment rates or degrees granted, these changes can have a major, unexplained, impact on numbers for the affected institution(s).

The detailed information on numbers and percentages by institution are subject to Statistics Canada random rounding procedure (see below). This rounding can have a dramatic effect on those institutions with relative small numbers with respect to the measure being reported. For this reason, caution should be exercised in interpreting shifts over time when relatively small numbers are involved.

For the same reason (the sensitivity of small numbers to random rounding effects), the list of universities included in the last few tables for “degrees awarded” is more restricted than for enrolment figures. The percent of degrees awarded to international students was not calculated for the same reason – the numbers are too small to be stable and reliable, especially given random rounding. Some tables with “ranking” of universities omit institutions with small (and therefore unstable) numbers.

Colleges that are part of the universities are not reported separately. Totals are presented only for the “parent institution”, numbers which include the affiliated colleges.

These tables for individual universities are presented, without commentary, in this part of the 44th Report. Most tables include data from 1995-2015; others are more restricted in time frame, due the focus (e.g. only data for 2015) or due to data availability.

Methodological notes

Notes from Statistics Canada:

- Enrolments are based on students enrolled in the postsecondary institutions at the time of the fall snapshot date, that is, a single date chosen by the institution which falls between September 30th and December 1st. Therefore students who are not enrolled during this time period are excluded and enrolment totals do not represent a full academic year. It should also be noted, enrolments are based on program counts and not student counts. If a student is enrolled in more than one program as of the snapshot date, then all of their programs are included in the count.
- Up to 2008, the enrolment count excludes students enrolled in programs related to pre-employment, apprenticeship, basic training or skills upgrading, second language training, job readiness or orientation programs. However, as of 2009 the enrolment count includes these programs but still excludes apprenticeship programs.
- From 2005 to 2008, the enrolments for the University of Regina are not available.
- All counts are randomly rounded to a multiple of 3 using the following procedure: counts which are already a multiple of 3 are not adjusted; counts one greater than a multiple of 3 are adjusted to the next lowest multiple of 3 with a probability of two-thirds and to the next highest multiple of 3 with a probability of one-third. The probabilities are reversed for counts that are one less than a multiple of 3.

Notes from Universities Canada:

- Use of estimates (imputed institutions): Enrolment and graduate counts for certain institutions are preliminary or based on estimates. Specifically: University of Ontario Institute of Technology, 2008; University of Victoria 2004-2007.
- Institutions no longer surveyed: Due to a revision of the institutions in the survey, the following are not included as of 2008/2009 for enrolments and 2008 for graduates: in New Brunswick, Bethany Bible College; in Ontario, Institut de pastorale des Dominicains, Tyndale University College and Seminary, Redeemer University College, Royal Military College of Canada; in Alberta, Newman Theological College; in British Columbia, Regent College, Vancouver School of Theology, Trinity Western University, and Seminary of Christ the King.
- Changes in institutional status: The following institutions, previously colleges, changed to university status.
 - As of 2002/2003 reporting year: Ontario College of Art and Design (Ontario);
 - As of 2004/2005 reporting year: Alberta College of Art and Design (Alberta);
 - As of 2005/2006 reporting year: University College of the Cariboo and Open Learning Agency (British Columbia);
 - As of 2008/2009 reporting year: Capilano College, Malaspina University College, Emily Carr Institute of Art and Design, Kwantlen University College and University College of the Fraser Valley (British Columbia);
 - As of 2009/2010 reporting year: Grant McEwan University and Mount Royal University (Alberta).

- Changes in reporting:
 - in 2013/2014, data for the Nova Scotia Agricultural College are reported by Dalhousie University;
 - in 2013/2014, the Collège Dominicain de philosophie et de théologie became a campus of Carleton University;
 - in 2013/2014, graduate data for Algoma University College are reported by Laurentian University while their enrolment data are reported by Algoma University.
- Up to 2008/2009 for enrolments and up to 2008 for graduates, the count excludes students enrolled in programs related to pre-employment, apprenticeship, basic training or skills upgrading, second language training, job readiness or orientation programs. However, there is an exception for University of Manitoba - Manitoba (2007 and 2008). These institutions have revised their data for the years indicated and because of processing system limitations, these institutions now have these programs included in their enrolment and graduate counts. As of 2009 for all institutions, the enrolment and graduate counts include these programs but still exclude the apprenticeship programs.
- Changes in registration status: Users of the enrolment data should be aware that many reporting anomalies exist in the institutional time-series. Some institutions have changed the course load requirements to classify students into the full- and part-time categories, causing significant breaks in at least their own institutional time series data:
 - University of Manitoba - 1993 to 1994, to qualify for full-time study the course load requirement fell to 60% from 80%;
 - Université de Montreal where in 1997 the requirement for full-time status changed;
 - For University of Saskatchewan, the definition of full-time and part-time has changed. The registration status for enrolments in 2008/2009 refers to the September to December period. In the previous years, it referred to the September to April period.
- University of Regina: From 2005 to 2008 enrolments and graduates counts for the University of Regina are not available.
- University of Saskatchewan: residency counts in the health-related programs are not included as of 2008/2009 for enrolments and 2008 for graduates.
- Quebec institutions: The graduate counts for the Quebec institutions up to and including 2008 do not include micro programs and attestations. However, as of 2009, these are included.
- University of Winnipeg: A large portion of the graduate programs in the Theology and Marriage and Family programs for University of Winnipeg for 2011/12 and 2012/13 are not reported. Due to a constraint in their student information system they cannot extract these programs.
